A POLL BY THE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE AND REGISTRATION FIGURES THAT CAST A SHADOW OVER THE DEMOCRATS-M'KINLEY'S PROBABLE MAJORITY

WELL UP IN THE THOUSANDS.

Oct. 23.-The vote of Hamilton County, which includes this city and its suburbs, has long been he most uncertain and fluctuating quantity in Ohio Political upsets and surprises are frequent pere, and the result of an election in any one year searcely offers safe ground for predictions the year To go back no further than 1887,-though the same startling record of political instability might be mored backward for a dozen years or more,-a glance vote in the last four State elections will show range of variations as eccentric as can be found anywhere for a similar period in the history of Amerian politics. In 1887, when Governor Fornker was a andidate for re-election against General Powell, namilton County gave him the flattering majority of 8602. In 1888, slthough the total poll in that county, ander the excitement of a Presidential contest, was in creased by over 15,000, the Republican majority was cut almost in two and Harrison defeated Cleveland by 3,546. Throughout the State generally the argely increased total vote had resulted in marked Republican gains. Here the conditions were reversed and the Republican electoral ticket suffered a loss of 3,146 as compared with the vote of 1887. campaign, and Foraker's majority of 6,692 was concerted into a majority for his opponent of 7,313. Last all when the Republican party throughout the unity was suffering the most disastrous defeats, here in Cincinnati the Republican State and Congress tickets son their most signal victory for years. The Republican candidate for Secretary of State defeated his appearnt by 8,520 votes, while the Congress ticket swept the county by a majority of more than 10,000. Local causes, of course, had everything to do with ast of these sudden and violent political fluctuations. Forsker in 1887 was at the height of his power and popularity, and the Democratic candidate was scarcely known in this city. In 1888 the dissatisfaction of the Serman Republicans with Governor Foraker's municipal her had broken out, and the majority for Harrison tell of noticeably. By 1889 the feeling against the Republican management of local excise and police coblems had become exceedingly bitter, and it is the county, even if the famous "ballot-box forgery had not arisen to complete his downfall. rear Governor Campbell's interference in local affairs and the abortive "ripper legislation" by which he atempted to destroy the local Democratic ring brought him into greater local disfavor even than his oppopent of the year before, and the Democratic State and Congress tickets were overwhelmed as a rebuke to the bend of the State Government.

work for years past in the legislative contests. They sent a Democratic delegation to Columbus in 1883. when Henry B. Payne was chosen United States Senstor, and again in 1889, when Calvin S. Brice was cted Payne's successor. In every fight for the of conditions in this county can be complete or trustthy which does not take into account the peculiarly local interest involved in every canvass. County generally remains an enigma to all but hometicians, and the state committees of both parties wisely leave the county campaign entirely in the hands of the local managers. The two county chairmen this year, Mr. Herrmann, of the Republican Committee, and Mr. Bowles, of the Democratic, are shrewd, business-like, and, in the main, candid, critics of the political situation here, and the observations ow are chiefly the result of a careful com parison of Their very frank views and estimates on the Republicans started in upon the county campaign this year under the more favorable conditions. The opposition had been disorganized and disheartened Governor Campbell's declaration of war upon the Democratic ring in this gity and among the officeunceremoniously turned out of their places for a time by the "ripper legislation" at Columbus, there was still a bitterness against the author of their mis-The Hamilton County delegation fought Campbell's nomination at Cleveland and retired from necessary at the State Committee's headquarters to keep Governor Campbell away from Cincinnati a long as possible, and to delay the opening of the local canvass until late in September, in order to allow the disaffection in the party to heal up. tively weak this fall, and has not been able to pol the county with accuracy, or bring out a full Democratic registration. On the other hand, it must be ad mitted that the opposition to Governor Campbel within his own party has been stendily weaken ing and the Democratic managers were themselves made at the Music Hall meeting last Monday, whe they ventured to introduce the Governor here. Two months ago not less than 5,000 or 6,000 Democrats would have voted against Campbell on the issue. As a result, undoubtedly of large number of workers in the Democratic organization have come around to a reluctant support of Democratic managers do not now expect to win tack. Mr. Bowles, the Democratic chairman, is disposed to cut the number down to a little less than 1.500, while the Republican Committee counts on upward of 4,000. Thirty-one or thirty-two hundred would perhaps be a fair estimate of the Democratic defection from Campbell on personal grounds entend with a slight local disnifection on the State and there were Republicans in the importing houses here who were somewhat aggrieved at the McKinle were not disposed to vote for its author for Governor. The Democratic declaration good deal to offset this feeling against the candidacy of an extreme high tariff Republican, and the vote which chants in Cincinnati will now be comparatively small. might amount to about 1,200 votes; but to-day a careful calculation would reduce that estimate by more

The Republican committee's poll shows, moreover, tios among Democrats on the tariff issue sufficient a number to balance any loss to McKinley from the hostinty of low-tariff Republicans. The canvassing work of the Republican committee has been more thorough and accurate this year than ever before. Heatquarters were opened early in September and a most painstaking poll of the county was begun. Prizes d $250, $150, $100 and $50 were offered to the four precinct committeemen who should turn in before October 4 the most accurate lists of Predict voters, as shown by subsequent comparison with the registration and voting lists. In many precincts an almost perfect poll was the Republican voters registered. On the first two sheigh was recorded, while for the same two days ch about 38 per cent of the Democratic vote was resistered. To-day and to-morrow are the final days of registration, and the Republican Committee with their books. It is doubtful if more than 80 or 85 per cent of the Democratic vote can be recorded. This itself will be an advantage of 2,000 or more votes to the Republicans. The Republican outlook can best be stated, perhaps, in a few sentences from Chairman He said to-day:

6 9,000 in this county. From 3,000 to 4,000 Demorata will cut Campbell and vote for McKinley, because of the "ripper legislation." We will lose a few Reput more than make up the loss from among Democratic condition. The Germans have nothing to complain of in the way of riad municipal law, and they are united for the first time in several years in support If the whole ticket. We have a much fuller poli of German Republicans than usual, and will get more totes from that quarter than we have had since Garplete and we will not miss our guess on more than that these carefully collected and verified figures show

What Mr. Herrmann says about the German vote

The normal Republican majority of the county is about | THE SEARLES WILL CONTEST. 4,000 on a square fight. The loss of 3,000 Democrats 4,000 on a square ngm. The loss of 3,000 below from Campbell would increase the Republican preponderance to 10,000, which would leave an ample margin for all deductions which should be made for Republican disaffection. Mr. Herrmann's estimate of from 8,000 to 9,000, consequently, is not an exaggerated, over-sanguine one, and even after making due allowance for shrinkages it is hard to see how Major McKinley's majority can fall below 5,000 or 6,000.

due allowance for shrinkages it is hard to see how Major McKinley's majority can fall below 5,000 or 6,000.

Mr. Bowles, the Democratic chairman, thinks it will, however. Here is what he says: "I believe the county will be very close. We count on a defection of more than 2,000 Republicans from McKinley. Their votes will go to Campbell. One thousand Democrats will cut Campbell, but they will not vote for McKinley. The normal Republican majority here is only 3,500; so you see the majority will be kept down to small figures either way. The weak point so far in our fight is our registration. We are behind the Republicans, but hope to get nearly up to them to-day and to-morrow. I believe there will be a great reaction here on the tariff question, and it is on that that I am counting chiefly to overcome the Republican majority. Campbell will come down here with a slight majority in the rest of the State, and we hope at best simply to help him out."

Mr. Howles's confidence in a general drift to Campbell and away from McKinley on the tariff issue is not borne out by surface indications here and, even according to the Democratic chairman's own showing, Major McKinley will have at least 2,500 or 3,000 majority in Hamilton County, except in case of a decided "tariff reaction." It is generally conceded that the Republicans will get their Legislative ticket through this year. Mr. Herrmann counts on sare majorities for the three Senators and eight or nine of the ten Representatives, and at the Democratic Committee's headquarters it is admitted that the Republican nominees are individually strong, and if Major McKinley gets from 8,000 to 9,000 majority they will all be elected with ease, thus insuring the control of the next Legislature by the Republicans and the election of a Republican United States Senator. States Senator.

If you do not register you cannot vote. If you do not vote you cannot assist in the rebuke of Tammany Hall which the people will administer this fall. The voters of the country districts can be relied on to do their duty. Will you not be sure to do yours by registering to-day and voting on November 37

GROWING ENTHUSIASM FOR MEYER. LABOR MEN DECLARE THEMSELVES IN FAVOR

OF FASSETT A hearty reception was given to Henry A. Mever

by the Republicans of the First, Sixth and Tenth wards of Brooklyn at a meeting last evening in the hall of the Brooklyn Athenaeum, at Atlantic-ave. and Clinton-st. The large hall was thronged. Joshua M. Van Cott presided. Mr. Mever was welcomed with loud cheers and long-continued applause, and his assurances that if elected he would be subservient to no boss or gang, and would administer the Mayor's office in the interests of all the people, was received with redoubled applause.

Speeches were also made at the Athenaeum by Theo dore B. Willis, Jesse Johnson, George F. Elliott, ex-Senator O'Connor, Horace E. Dresser and others.

Much indignation was expressed over the action of the police in stopping a display of fireworks in connection with the meeting, for which a permit had been granted by the Mayor. Bemonstrances with the police were of no avail, and the representation that the Third Ward Democrats were setting off fireworks produced no effect. The police authorities will be called upo to explain the discrimination in favor of the Demo-

WHY DEMOCRATS SUPPORT FASSETT. A mass-meeting under the auspices of the IXth Assembly District Pallot Reform Club was held last evening in the Bleecker Building to ratify the nomination of J. Sloat Fasseff for Governor and the Repub lication nominations for Senate and Assembly in the IXth District. Joseph Hawkins presided and James Hurley was secretary. There were about 200 presen and they were treated to rousing speeches by Robert Blissert, Frank Farrel, Louis F. Post, Lispenard Stew art and others. Mr. Post said that he was not a Re publican, but that he was laboring for something which could not be accomplished until all men were equal at the polls. The Republican party had pledged itself ing man should support its nominations.

Pobert Blissert, of the Central Labor Union, said that if the Democrats were what they should be he would vote with them. "My instinct," he said, would lead me to be a Democrat, but my intelligence tells me to vote for J. Sloat Fassett."

Resolutions were passed pledging the support of the club to the Republican nominations.

A WORTHY REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE.

James B. Townsend, an energetic young business man, is the Republican candidate for Congress in the Butterfield expressed his unwillingness to be a can didate. Mr. Townsend is about thirty-five years old, s a graduate of Princeton College, and is now manager of the Press News Agency in this city. He is a ways been earnest in political work. He is the son were members of Congress. The district in which he is a candidate has recently been Democratic in ordinary colitical contests. Mr. Townsend, however, is make ing an active canvass, and has a good prospect of earnestly in his behalf, and many votes which are usually cast for Democratic candidates will support him this year. Mr. Townsend's literary and busine career has been henorable and successful, and he is candidate worthy of the support of every Republicand independent voter.

JOHN MCMACKIN DENIES THE CHARGE.

John McMackin, the former chairman of the county general committee of the United Labor party, has been greatly incensed by the charges that he appropriated to his own use money given to him by James J. Coogan, the Labor candidate for Mayir in 1888. Mr. McMackin says that if Mr. Coogan or any newspaper will make such a statement be will bring the matter into court. Mr. McMackin says that every check given to him was paid to the person for whom it was intended. He is working hard for Fassett.

HORACE H. CHITTENDEN FOR ASSEMBLYMAN. The committee empowered to place in nomination a Republican candidate for member of Assembly in the Hd Assembly District of Westchester County, vice William V. Mollov, declined, has named Horace II. Chittenden, a son of L. E. Chittenden, formerly Register of the United States Treasury. Mr. Chittenden is a lawyer, has an office in this city and lives in New-Rochelle. He will make an active canvass and prom-ises to make it interesting for his Democratic opponent, William Ryan, of Portchester.

DEMOCRATS REVISE THEIR NOMINATIONS. Alarmed at the prospects of the Republicans carrying the Hd Assembly District of Passaic County, N. J., the Democratic bosses have forced out of the race both ex-Postmaster John Johnson, of Paterson, the regular nominee, and ex-Alderman Wellington Swift, who after is defeat at the primaries announced himself as an independent candidate. Certificates announcing the of John F. Smith, in accordance with the Ballot Reform law, were filed with the county clerk yesterday. Smith is an undertaker in Paterson, and has held the office of coroner. Prosecutor Gouriey, Governor Abbett's subboss for Passale Couty, had done all he could to op-pose the nomination of Johnson, and was alleged to be throwing his Influence against his election and in favor of swift; but the only way to get Johnson, who is an of swift; but the only way to get Johnson, who is at open anti-Abbett man, out of the race was to indue swift to withdraw also, and to select a compromise candidate. A similar effort, with prospects of suc-cess, is making to get Refoard Carrell, the Indep Jen Democratic candidate, in the IIId District, to with over to the Consolidated Exchange. There were no sales at the Stock Exchange, making three black days in the week. There was more activity in options at the Consolidated Board, 85,000 barrels changing hands, the Consolidated Board, $5,000 barrels changing hands. Prices were firmer, at 59.7-8.200 5-8 cents, because of the falling off in the output of the McDonald pool to 54,500 barrels. There are three wells soon daw which may raise the production, but the decline from the highest point this week is about 3,000 barrels. Refined oil was unchanged at 4.50 cents in barrels and 7.80 cents per gallon in cases.

Refined quotations abroad were: Antwerp 15.1-4 francs; Bremen, 6.10 marks; London, 5.1-2.25.5-8 pence.
